

SLOVENIA – LAKES, MOUNTAINS AND MEDIEVAL TOWNS

8-day / 7-night easy to moderate SELF-GUIDED inn-to-inn cycling from Lake Bled

Slovenia, at the crossroads of Europe, bordering Italy, Austria, Croatia, and Hungary, with a short coastline on the Adriatic Sea, is full of surprises: towering peaks, diverse landscapes and many gems of medieval architecture. This is a green and beautiful country, ideal for cycling. This tour takes in many highlights including the glacial lakes of Bled and Bohinj, Triglav National Park and the resort town of Kranjska Gora. The cycling is mostly on quiet back roads over flat to undulating terrain.

Start and end your cycling holiday at Lake Bled, easily accessible from the capital Ljubljana. Soak up the dramatic scenery of the Julian Alps, Mount Triglav (the highest peak in Slovenia) and glacial Lake Bohinj. See Škofja Loka and Radovljica, charming towns with well-preserved Gothic and Renaissance architecture. Visit interesting sites like the Museum of Hostages in Begunje, the blacksmithing museum in Kropa where you can learn to forge nails, Radovljica's beekeeping museum, and the painter Ivan Grohar's birthplace. Try the local honey brandy and glory in a cuisine that takes a little bit from Hungarian, Austrian, Balkan and Italian cooking, for a uniquely Slovenian flavour.

Suggested itinerary:

Day 1 Arrive Lake Bled

Bled is like a fairy-tale – a medieval castle perched on a clifftop guards the town, its steepled church rises from an island in the lake and mountain peaks soar in the distance. Private transfers can be arranged to Bled from Ljubljana airport or city centre at extra cost, ask for details when booking.

Day 2 Bled to Bohinjska Bistrica

cycling @ 27km + optional 16km

After a bike fitting and briefing, take a short transfer to the limestone Pokljuka plateau, dotted with rustic farmhouses among spruce forest and alpine meadows. Begin your descent to Ribčev Laz, a small fishing settlement at Lake Bohinj's edge. The lake is a photographer's delight – crystalline waters, variously emerald, turquoise or deep blue, with the green-clad slopes of the Julian Alps rising starkly at the far end. In the afternoon cycle around the lake to the Savica waterfall or take a cable car up Mt Vogel for views of Mt Triglav and the Bohinj valley. After dinner, relax in a cosy village pub where you can try locally made honey brandy.

Day 3 Bohinjska Bistrica to Škofja Loka

cycling @ 50km

A moderate to challenging ride, first up to the village of Bohinjska Bistrica, then a gradual but long ascent of 750m to Jelovica plateau. If that's too much, you can organise vehicle assistance to the pass at extra cost. From the pass, cycle through forest to Sorica, birthplace of Slovenian Impressionist painter Ivan Grohar, whose painting 'The Sower' inspired the Slovenian 5-cent coin. The small museum here features his work. Your destination is the well-preserved 10th Century town of Škofja Loka. The red-roofed castle dominates from its hilltop perch; if you have the energy a walk or ride up to the castle is recommended. Wander through the Old Town and look for the 14th Century stone Capuchin Bridge arching over the Soca River.

Day 4 Škofja Loka to Predoslje

cycling @ 42km

A mostly flat ride across the Sora plain, with the peaks of the Kamnik-Savinja Alps as the backdrop. In peaceful Preddnor, weather permitting you may like to have a swim in the dark green waters of the 'Black Lake' (Črnava Jezero). You end the day at the Brdo estate, a former royal and presidential residence which still plays host to meetings of heads of state. The red-roofed Renaissance-era mansion is set in extensive parkland which includes forest, nature reserve and formal gardens.

Day 5 Predoslje to Radovljica

cycling @ 30km + optional 12km

You ride first to Kranj, at the confluence of the Sava and Kokra Rivers. Though much of the city we see today dates to the 16th to 18th Centuries, this spot has been settled since prehistoric times, and there are Illyrian, Celtic and early Slavic archaeological sites nearby. Cycle over flat to undulating terrain to Radovljica, another beautifully preserved medieval town. It was fortified in the 15th and 16th Centuries and the moat still remains. The main square offers colourful Gothic and Renaissance buildings and the 16th Century Šivec House, with a fresco depicting the parable of the Good Samaritan. The Baroque Radovljica Mansion dominates the square and houses the beekeeping museum (the town has been the centre of Slovenia's honey production for centuries). En route to Radovljica you can detour to the iron-forging museum at Kropa and learn to make nails.

Day 6 Radovljica to Kranjska Gora

cycling @ 50 km + optional 15km

A very gradual ascent of 300 metres over 40 kilometres in the foothills of the Kamnik-Savinja Alps leads us to Begunje and Kranjska Gora. This ride reflects the more recent history of Slovenia – during World War II, the country was carved up and annexed by Germany, Italy and Hungary. Begunje was occupied by Nazi Germany and the 16th Century Katzenstein manor in the village centre was used as a prison for Slovenian resistance fighters. Many were executed there. The manor is now home to the solemn Museum of Hostages. Leaving Begunje, follow the Sava River valley between the Karawanke range and the Julian Alps, to Kranjska Gora, a ski resort during the winter and activity playground in summer. Perhaps add on a ride to the ski jump site at Planica, where many world records have been set.

Day 7 Kranjska Gora to Bled

cycling @ 40km + optional 8km

Return into Triglav National Park and tranquil Krma valley, perhaps have lunch at the alpine hut (if open) at the foot of Mt Triglav. From here to the Radovna valley between two high plateaus with a detour to spectacular Vintgar Gorge, carved by the Radovna River from the surrounding limestone. Walk the 1.6km timber walkway in the gorge to the Šum waterfall. Continue on to Bled with time to explore the lake or a climb for the views from Straža hill. Perhaps visit Bled Castle and its museum, or take a traditional rowboat called a Pletna to the island and up the 99 steps to the Assumption of Mary Church. Why not end the day with the local speciality Kremšnita pastry in a tea shop near the lake?

Day 8 Departure day

Tour ends after breakfast. Extra nights can be arranged in Bled and transfers to Ljubljana at extra cost.
