

NEW ZEALAND FREEDOM WALKS

2010/11

MILFORD TRACK - ROUTEBURN TRACK - KEPLER TRACK

Self-guided wilderness backpacking treks

As specialists in walking holidays worldwide Outdoor Travel understands that self-guided walks are very popular and not everyone wants or can afford the guided walks offered in areas such as Milford Sound.

We offer 'freedom walks' or unguided backpacking treks in these New Zealand wilderness areas. You carry your own gear and food but, working with the NZ Department of Conservation (DOC), we offer reservation on three of the most popular walks where your bus and boat transfers are pre-booked to/from the start/finish of the walk, simple DOC hut accommodation (bring your sleeping bags) is provided and you will receive a pre-track briefing with track/route information/maps.

Walkers are required to provide & carry all their own food, basic cooking equipment and bedding. Space is very limited in DOC huts so early booking essential – especially over the summer holiday period!

MILFORD TRACK - Renowned as the world's finest walking track, New Zealand's Milford Track is 55-kilometres from Lake Te Anau to Milford Sound in the Fiordland National Park. The well-maintained trail follows the Clinton River to its source in Lake Mintaro, crosses the MacKinnon Pass before descending to the Arthur Valley and Milford Sound.

ROUTEburn TRACK - This historic alpine track travels through both the Fiordland and Mount Aspiring National Parks following a trail through the Southern Alps pioneered in the 1860's gold rush era.

KEPLER TRACK - A 60-km circular track that traverses the Fiordland National Park. It is part of the Te-Wāhipounamu – South West New Zealand World Heritage Area, located in the south west of the South Island. It is an easy tramping track that takes three to four days to complete.
