

IRELAND – THE DINGLE PENINSULA

8-day / 7-night SELF-GUIDED inn-to-inn coastal walks from Tralee to Annascaul

The Dingle Way is a fantastic scenic walk along Ireland's rugged west coast, the setting of many films, including Ryan's Daughter and Far and Away. The Dingle Way Long Distance Hiking Trail is 180kms in total taking you around one of the most magnificent peninsulas in Ireland. Because of its remote location and lack of specialised agriculture, it is steeped in ancient Irish history and spectacularly shaped by the ravages of the Atlantic Ocean.

This 8-day (7-night) independent inn-to-inn walking holiday takes you on just over 100kms of this long distance trail as you walk from Tralee town as far west as land will take you to Dunquin before crossing through the heart of the peninsula to finish back in Annascaul. Walk to the fishing port of Dingle through one of the last strongholds of the Gaelic language, taking in spectacular mountain scenery and pristine Atlantic beaches, and soaking up the atmosphere surrounding archaeological sites, ancient ogham stones and ruined Stone Age and Iron Age forts.

The average walking time ranges from 5 to 7 hours per day, at a leisurely pace with opportunities to stop at places of interest along the way. The terrain is undulating on varied surfaces including rocky and grassy mountain paths, some boggy stretches, gravel roads, walking on quiet country roads. Good, well worn-in walking boots are essential. Your luggage is transferred for you, so all you need to carry is a small pack with the day's supplies. Start each day with a full cooked Irish breakfast and always strong hot tea, to fuel the day's walking.

Departs: Daily on demand all year round

Cost from: $1455 per person twin-share. Single and Solo Traveller supplements are on request.

Includes: Twin share accommodation in Irish Tourist Board Approved accommodation with ensuite bathrooms or private facilities, Irish breakfasts each day, transfers as per itinerary, luggage transfers, welcome briefing, full route information, itinerary notes & map, GPS App if required, 24 hour telephone assistance.

Not included: Other meals, drinks, personal expenses, travel to / from the start/end of the tour.

Getting to the Dingle Peninsula can be from Kerry, Dublin, Cork or Shannon Airports with bus and/or train connections available to Tralee all year round. Extra nights or rest days can be added at extra cost – ask when making your booking.

Suggested itinerary:

- Day 1 Arrive Camp
Plan to arrive around mid-afternoon at your first hotel in Tralee, the administrative capital of County Kerry. Tralee is connected to many locations in Ireland, including Cork, Galway and Dublin.
- Day 2 Tralee to Camp walking @ 19km
Begin your walk beside an old canal and take back country roads along the Dingle Way & Kerry Camino walking routes. Continue west on the foothills of the Slieve Mish Mountains before joining what was once an old road to Dingle. Pass an interesting 12th Century oratory and continue to the village of Camp, where you stay overnight.
- Day 3 Camp to Annascaul walking @ 17km
Continuing along the Dingle Way & Kerry Camino walking routes your walk today takes in an area of bog land where many people still come to cut their winter fuel. Walk through the centre of the peninsula to reach the southern shores at the picturesque Inch Beach. There is time to enjoy the scenery, have a swim, or perhaps a “cuppa”, before continuing inland to reach the pretty village of Annascaul, home of Tom Crean, the Antarctic explorer who accompanied both Shackleton & Scott on their adventures. Overnight in Annascaul.
- Day 4 Annascaul to Dingle walking @ 22km
Continue along a medieval road, past the 16th Century castle at Minard and nearby Holy Well, along narrow country lanes with views of the Iveragh peninsula and mountain ranges inland, past lonely beaches and green paddocks. You then join an old military road below the Connor Pass before ending your day in the fishing village of Dingle which is steeped in Irish culture and music and part of the Gaeltacht, where the locals still speak in the native (Gaelic) tongue. You stay in Dingle for the next two nights.
- Day 5 Dingle to Dunquin walking @ 18km
After a morning transfer, take in the spectacular scenery as you walk via Ventry Beach and follow the Dingle Way along the slopes of Mount Eagle to Sleah Head. This stretch is famous for its concentration of archaeological sites, including a Neolithic fort and drystone ‘beehive huts’ or clochan of somewhat mysterious origin. There are also far reaching views across the sea to the Blasket Islands. End the walk in Dunquin before a taxi transfers you back to Dingle for the night.
- Day 6 Dunquin to Cuas to Cloghane walking @ 18km
A taxi takes you to the tiny hamlet of Tiduff to begin the walk high along an old military road to the eastern side Brandon Mountain Range, then down to Brandon Bay. This is an historic walk through a scenic, remote area only accessible on foot. Good visibility and navigating ability is required for this section. End with a night in Cloghane.
- Day 7 Cloghane to Annascaul walking @ 14km
Today’s walk takes you across the centre of the Dingle Peninsula from North to South, following a spectacular old farmer’s track. You hike over a plateau, between mountains, passing a deserted famine village and descending to the beautiful Annascaul Lake. From here, you continue on small ‘boreens’ to reach the village of Annascaul for your overnight stay.
- Day 8 Depart from Annascaul
Tour ends after breakfast.
There is a bus service back to Tralee. Private transfers are available at extra cost. Ask for details when booking.
