Suggested itinerary:

Day 1: Arrive St Malo

Arrive early to allow time to explore this busy harbour town, with its cobbled streets in the old quarter and protective walls. The town has a fascinating history and was once a stronghold for many privateers, not-quite-pirates who had received the marque of the king. Le Demeure de Corsaire is an interesting 18th Century privateer's house and museum in St Malo. Enjoy a welcome drink while you receive your route information.

Day 2: St Malo – Dinan

cycling @ 35km

Allow time to see the citadelle and ramparts, then begin cycling inland along the gently undulating valley of the Rance River. Ride mostly on forest backroads past small villages to the steep hill that leads you into Dinan, Brittany's best preserved medieval town. A wonderful place to explore and swim so allow time here.

Day 3: Dinan – Combourg

cycling @ 35km

Meander further inland to see more of the quiet Bretonne countryside and discover ancient monolithic stone structures known as dolmen. The 11th Century granite castle in medieval Combourg, with its four turrets, is well worth a visit and the castle grounds are open all day. Lac Tranquille is ideal for an evening stroll.

Day 4: Combourg – Fougères

cycling @ 55km

Sens de Bretagne, Rimou and other villages are on your route today. After cycling through the valley of the River Cousenon and Tremblay, you ride through wooded landscapes and past ancient castles to reach Fougères. Take time to explore the castle here with its many different levels that make it seemingly impregnable.

Day 5: Fougères – Pontorson

cycling @ 50km

Discover the typical countryside of Brittany with its lovely stone farmhouses and small villages bedecked with flowers. Perhaps take some time to stop in the village of St Brice-en-Coglès before continuing on small country roads along the banks of the Cousenon River and into Pontorson across the border in Normandy.

Day 6: Pontorson – Cancale

cycling @ 45km

From Moidrey, the finest views of one of the most visited sites in France begin to appear. Whether it's your first or fifth visit, whether the weather is sunny or misty, the sun rising or setting, the view of Mont Saint Michel on its rugged rock outcrop and the spectacular bay is always awe-inspiring. Make time to climb the ancient ramparts, visit the Abbey and its cloisters, and enjoy views of the bay and the many shops and café/restaurants on the road that winds up to the monastery. Then make your way across the newly constructed bridge, glancing back occasionally at the magnificent view, to Le Vivier-sur-Mer on the edge of the bay. End the day in Cancale, a picturesque fishing harbour lined with restaurants that offer local oysters and fish fresh from the sea nearby, and from which you can see one last time the Mont Saint Michel standing on the horizon.

Day 7: Cancale – Saint Malo

cycling @ 25km

Cycle alongside sandy beaches and the rugged granite coastline to Pointe de Grouin and Anse du Guesclin, where, tides permitting, you can walk to Fort Duguesclin on its tiny rocky island. Return to the historic walled ferry-port town of St Malo.

Day 8: Departure day

Tour ends after breakfast at your hotel in St Malo. There are train connections from here to Paris or other areas of Europe and regular ferry services to Jersey and the Channel Islands or across to the English South Coast.
